

ERGONOMOMIC COMFORT

Comfort is a personal matter: it is found when your posture is correct and you get support where your body needs it. The human body is the pattern for every Brigger piece. Each chair and rocker is designed to contour to your shape, and provide the knees, neck, head, and especially the back with proper cushioning and support.

All models incorporate our adjustable LumBar™ support for the lower back, an innovation in healthy sitting comfort. Brigger furniture is truly “made to fit your body”.

INTERIOR DESIGN

We provide you with the ingredients to help you create the look that is right for your home or office. Choose a Brigger model that you like, and determine your own style by combining any fabric or leather with the wood and finish of your choice. Start with our beautiful oak, maple and cherry hardwoods, finished to your specification with lustrous stains ranging from Cherry to Teak, and Walnut to Antique. Then add fabrics and leathers from our extensive domestic and imported collection. Choose from richly textured cotton chenille, sumptuously soft UltraSuede, top-grain aniline leather, and much more.

CRAFTSMANSHIP & UTILITY

Brigger furniture is handcrafted in our New England workshop from solid domestic hardwoods and protected with a durable lacquer finish. Seat supports are reinforced with non-woven polyester fabric to prevent stretching and sagging. Brigger furniture is lightweight yet very durable. It ships via UPS ground service, and assembly takes just minutes by following a few simple steps. All parts are covered by our 5-year limited product warranty.
